DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shinji (JP 05-348,038 A submitted by applicant, hereafter as JP)

As to claims 1 and 3, JP discloses a through hole conduction structure of a flexible multilayer circuit board (92-figure 1, see an attached paper) and a method for forming a through hole conduction structure of a flexible multilayer circuit board as shown in figures 1-17, and also, see an attached paper on a back of an office action, comprising:

an internal layer circuit board (55) having a wiring pattern (125; 126) and an external layer circuit board (111-figures 1, 8-11) laminated on one side or both sides of said internal layer circuit board;

a through hole (10) plated conduction portion (50) formed of said internal layer circuit board (55) and said external layer circuit board (111), a surface protection layer (129) formed on an external surface of a wiring pattern (125) of said internal layer circuit board (55), said surface protection layer (129) having a retreated portion which is outwardly retreated from the outside edge of the through hole (10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shinji (JP) in view of Yanagi et al. (JP 06-085,406 A, hereafter Yanagi).

JP does not disclose the surface protection layer, which is a cover film consisting of polyimide resin.

Yanagi shows a flexible printed wiring board comprising a polyimide protection layer (6A; 6B) disclosed in figures 1-2.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a protection layer made of polyimide material as taught by Yanagi to employ the flexible printed wiring board of JP in order to provide an excellent thermal expansion on a plated through hole and achieve a flexure of the flexible circuit board.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 5-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Examiner disagrees.

Shinji (JP) reference clearly shows in figures 1, 10-11, and 15-17 that the protection layer (129) having a retreated portion (a region that separated the plated through hole (50) not contact to the protection layer (129)), which is outwardly retreated, from the outside edge of the trough hole (10).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Endoh et al. disclose related art.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
